

STRAW HATS

ECKERT'S STORE

"ON THE SQUARE"

WALTERS WIZARD

The House of Novelties

It is a rare chance to see so many old favorite stars. Such as Little Mary Pickford, Miss Florence Lawrence and Owen Moore in a military feature production.

ARTFUL KATE

BERTIE'S BRAINSTORM

A real comedy played by real comedy players.

THE HEART OF A COWBOY

A real Western production. Played by a Western cast.

Show Starts 6:45 Admission 5c.

PATHE VITAGRAPH SELIG

THE GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER

Kathlyn Williams, Eugene Bessner are all seen to advantage in this feature picture.

THE CARE OF ELEPHANTS

The care of elephants gives us a few pointers on how to make ourselves beautiful.

SWEENEY AND THE MILLION

An exciting comedy showing Lillian Leighton and John Lancaster. They are seen at their best.

THE PITCHER PLANT—Pathe

This is a remarkable series of views of a remarkable plant.

THE SWEDISH SUBMARINE

MANEUVERS

An absorbingly interesting film.

Show Starts 6:45 Admission 5c.

"THE QUALITY SHOP" STRAW HATS

Are here, all styles. These hats have the patent adjustable sweat band. It is elastic and helps the hat cling to the head.

Will M. Seligman.

NEW PHOTOPLAY

SPECIAL TWO REEL WAR STORY TO-NIGHT

PAULINE CUSHMAN, THE FEDERAL SPY

Pauline Cushman was a fascinating actress who gave up her career to act in the dangerous capacity of spy for the Federal government. Her daring exploits and marvelous escapes from death are depicted in this two reel production, in which we also see cavalry charges, the Ambush at Lewistown Gap, the riot in the Louisville Theatre, and many battle scenes.

A STRENUOUS COURTSHIP—Cines Comedy

The third reel to-night will be:

Before he can win the girl he must master roller skating and he has a very strenuous time of it but succeeds.

AN INVINCIBLE SLEUTH—Cines Comedy

A detective uses very comical methods to capture a band of robbers, but he gets them in the end.

TO-MORROW NIGHT, Tuesday, Moving Pictures of the Dayton Flood disaster, by the Lubin company, taken immediately after the flood and showing the ruins and devastation wrought by this great flood, and some of the rescue work done.

There Is No Excuse

for a man not to be well dressed, when clothing of the character, style and finish, that we make may be bought at such moderate cost.

We lay special emphasis on our splendid assortment of new fabrics.

J. D. LIPPY, TAILOR.

Brighten Up Your Home With Sherwin-Williams Paints and Varnishes

There is a special finish for each surface. Outside paint S. W. P. that holds its color and defies the weather; floor varnishes that stand the hardest usage; stains that bring out and preserve the natural beauty of the trim; wall finishes that are durable, beautiful and sanitary.

Remember Thursday is Clean-Up day. Make it a Brighten-Up day as well.

Call at the store and get a Brighten-Up Pin and join the Brighten-Up Club.

Gettysburg Department Store

ICE CREAM SODA

Five cents per glass, same price as other years, with improvement in quality and service when possible.

Best Syrups, Fruits and Supplies.

Watch where the crowd goes.

People's Drug Store Huber's Drug Store.

NOTICE FARMERS:—Parcels Post Information. I can now send to any farmer—direct from my office to you—medicine for sick stock. With the Parcel Post and both telephones, you're bound to win with DR. HUDSON.

CADETS VISIT BATTLEFIELD

One Hundred West Point Seniors Visit Battlefield on Annual Tour for Technical Study of the Fight.

One hundred West Point Cadets, members of the graduating class at the military academy on the Hudson, arrived in Gettysburg over the Reading at five o'clock this morning in a special train of five sleepers to spend several days in a study of the battlefield.

The tour has become a part of the last year's study at the school and is followed by an examination upon the return of the cadets to the Point. A careful technical study of the conduct of the fight precedes the Gettysburg trip and while here the ground is covered thoroughly.

For a number of years it was the custom to take the entire body of Seniors over the battlefield in one party. For several years past it has been deemed better to divide into different sections and while one is visiting the Cavalry Field, another is at the Bloody Angle, a third on the First Day's Fight and a fourth on Culp's Hill. All are under instructors from the school who deliver lectures and conduct classes at the principal points, all covering the entire field during their stay here.

A half hour after the train arrived in Gettysburg the "coming soldiers" were quartered at the Eagle and Gettysburg hotels. Colonel G. E. Fiebigger, who has many friends here and usually accompanies these excursions, is again with the cadets and went with them over the battlefield. He is stopping at Hotel Gettysburg.

The class looks like all the other bodies of West Point men who have visited Gettysburg, with the addition that the majority of the men carry the new field glass equipment, consisting of the leather case with compass attached and a pair of army field glasses.

With favorable weather conditions a game of base ball will be played with the college team at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The return to West Point will be started at seven o'clock Tuesday evening.

FOR WARM WEATHER

Rain for Eastern States Beginning Wednesday, Is Predicted.

Warm spots in East and frosts in the Northwest and the Rocky Mountain country are forecasted in the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin. The bulletin indicates that during the week temperatures will average above normal over the Mississippi river and below normal over the Plains States and the Rocky Mountain and plateau regions. "The weather will be generally fair and warm the first part of the week in the Eastern States, followed by unsettled weather by Wednesday and local rains thereafter," the forecast announces. "There will be frequent showers during the first half of the week in the great central valleys and the Southern States, while generally fair weather will prevail for some days over the Plains States and the Rocky Mountain and plateau regions. There will be frosts the first half of the week in the Northwestern States and the plateau and Rocky Mountain regions."

DOG SHOOTERS BUSY

State Officers Start Killing Stray Dogs not Muzzled.

The state officers here for the past week to enforce the dog quarantine started this morning to kill all canines found at large on streets and alleys without muzzles or tags. A number of dogs were shot. The two men are dividing their time between the town and the county and will now enforce strictly the provisions of the quarantine. A week's time was given people to prepare and it is now felt that dog owners have only themselves to blame if their pets are killed.

ANNUAL MEETING

Presbyterian Congregation to Hold Annual Business Meeting.

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held in the lecture room at 7:30 this evening. Three trustees and a treasurer will be elected and reports of the year's work will be heard.

LOST: tail lamp from an automobile on the battlefield. A suitable reward will be paid to the finder returned same to the Crescent Auto Company garage.—advertisement. 1

NOTICE A very choice variety of roses, 1 year's growth, for sale, Tuesday's market at Dougherty and Hartley's corner, price 10 cents each.—advertisement. 1

JACOB KITZMILLER TAKEN BY DEATH

Civil War Veteran and Well Known Citizen of Gettysburg Dies at his Home on East Middle Street. A Native of the Town.

Jacob Kitzmiller, one of Gettysburg's best known residents, died at four o'clock this morning at his home on West Middle street following an attack of paralysis about three weeks ago. He was aged 73 years, 7 months and 8 days.

Mr. Kitzmiller was born in Gettysburg and spent his early years here. On August 21, 1862 he enlisted as a member of Company E, 15th Pennsylvania Cavalry and served for the remainder of the war as sergeant. He had a fine war record and was mustered out with his company on June 21, 1865. He was an enthusiastic member of Corporal Skelly Post 9, G. A. R., and always took the keenest interest in Grand Army matters.

After the war he engaged in farming in Freedom township for some years and about fifteen years ago moved back to town where he resided ever since. For some time he was a member of the town council and always took an active part in the discussions of that body. A year ago his health began to fail but he was able to be about until he was stricken with his fatal illness about three weeks ago.

He leaves his wife who was Miss Margaret Sandoe, and the following children: Mrs. H. Edwin Plank, Sandoe Kitzmiller, Blaine Kitzmiller and Percy Kitzmiller, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Lewis Lockard, Misses Olive and Mabel Kitzmiller, of Philadelphia; Charles Kitzmiller, of York; Starr Kitzmiller, of Harrisburg and Guyton Kitzmiller, of Baltimore. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Theodore Hoffman, of Gettysburg; and twenty two grandchildren.

Funeral from his late home on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

FORSCHT—DULL

Effort to Keep Wedding a Secret Proved Unsuccessful.

Two weddings in which college students were the guests occurred in Baltimore on Thursday, the day of the excursion. The one was that of Homer Bortner and Miss Agnes McClain, note of which was made on Friday. The other was the marriage of Miss Matilda Dull, daughter of Edward Dull, of South Washington street, and Harry L. Forscht, a Senior at college, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Forscht, of Minersville. City papers containing note of the marriage license being granted to the latter two were shown when they returned to Gettysburg Thursday night but they denied having been married saying they had taken out the license on a "dare" from the other couple. Saturday evening, however, they decided to tell the whole story and then made informal announcement of their marriage on Thursday. Needless to say the marriage of two college seniors on the same day has created quite an excitement at the institution and the two couples are busy receiving congratulations. Both will complete the course at college and receive their diplomas in June.

CLAY WORKS SOLD

Cumberland County Clay Works Sold for $15,500.00.

By virtue of an order of the court the Farmers Trust Company as trustee, sold at public sale in Carlisle Saturday afternoon property of the Cumberland County Clay Company, 211 acres in South Middleton township, Cumberland County, also an undivided half interest in 18 acres, also all the engines, boilers, machinery, shafting, belting, pulleys, tools, furniture, fixtures, appliances, implements, buildings of construction, books of accounts, rights, franchises and privileges. The purchaser was Col. John M. Groff, an attorney of Lancaster who represented bond holders. The price paid was $15,500.

COMING EVENTS

Happenings Scheduled in Gettysburg for the Coming Weeks.

May 8—Seminary Commencement. College Lutheran church.

May 14—"What Happened to Bragg?" Walter's-Wizard.

May 15—Concert by College Orchestra. Brua Chapel.

SEE H. G. Baugher's fruit tree ad on another page.—advertisement. 1

CREMER the florist will have geraniums, scarlet sage and a general line of fine bedding plants also tomato plants on Tuesday morning.—advertisement. 1

GETTING READY FOR CLEAN-UP

Town Alleys Show that People are Setting out Rubbish for the Highway Department to Remove on Thursday.

That Gettysburg people are getting ready for the annual clean-up of the town under the direction of the town council is shown by an inspection of alleys in almost every section of the borough. Piles of tin cans, ashes, old boxes, bottles and other refuse of every description may be found awaiting the teams of the highway department which will start to work early next Thursday morning and continue until the work is completed.

It is expected that the borough's house cleaning this year will be even more successful than in 1912, for that was the beginning of the idea so far as Gettysburg was concerned and the accumulation of years had to be hauled away. This week only the refuse which has been gathered for the past twelve months presents itself for attention and the work should not require more than a day or two.

It has not yet been determined in what section of town the work will start and as a result people everywhere are expected to be prepared and not to rely on their portion of the town being visited later in the week. Refuse should be arranged immediately in the rear of properties in such manner as will make it easiest for removal, and material which can be burned should not be put out for removal as it can be disposed of more quickly at home.

The general spirit of improvement which is being manifested in town now will, it is believed, be followed on Thursday by the cleaning up of back yards and home premises generally with the result that the town will put forth its best on Memorial Day and later in the summer.

MOVIE CHANGES

Enlarging One Picture Show House. Dividing Another.

Work has been started at enlarging the Photoplay Theatre on Baltimore street so as to include the present lobby. When the change has been completed one hundred more chairs will be installed giving the play-house fifty per cent more seating capacity than before.

Walter's-Wizard will to-night appear as two different theatres under the same roof. A large canvas division is being placed down the center aisle which has been widened by the removal of seats. In one side of the building licensed films will be run, as at present, while the other side will have independent films. To all intents and purposes it will be two separate theatres. When amateur or professional theatricals are to be given the canvas partition will be removed and the house appear as it did before the alterations.

PASTED ON BASIN

Will Found on Bottom of Wash Basin in Hagerstown.

A will, pasted on the bottom of a wash basin and conveying property to Richard Powell, Hagerstown, has just rewarded searchers for valuables among the personal effects of Mrs. Henrietta Haney, who died in Luray about one month ago. The will was addressed to John W. Grove: "Dear Friend—If I should die suddenly I want you to give Dick $400 and all of the things that he has here and one of my beds and anything else that he wants and then tell him to take care of it. Tell him not to spend it foolishly and be a good man for my sake, and try to meet me in Heaven."

Mr. Powell formerly lived in Martinsburg. Some time since he removed to Hagerstown and is now employed on the Western Maryland.

STRUCK WITH SHOVEL

Assault and Battery Case Brought against Oliver Miller.

Saturday evening Joseph Plank, residing near town, laid information before Justice Harnish against Oliver Miller charging the latter with assault and battery. Plank alleges that Miller struck him with a shovel while he, Plank, was working in a trench at the camp site. The trouble started over some trivial argument.

LOST: bunch of keys composed of three rings attached to a double aluminum chain. Finder please return to Gettysburg Light Co.—advertisement. 1

CREMER the florist will have geraniums, scarlet sage and a general line of fine bedding plants also tomato plants on Tuesday morning.—advertisement. 1

PERSONAL NOTES AND BRIEF ITEMS

Paragraphs of News Telling of the Happenings in and about Town. People Visiting here and those Sojourning Elsewhere.

Dr. Arthur Brumbaugh, of Altoona; Miss Sara Brumbaugh, of Roaring Springs, and Lieutenant Edward Brumbaugh, of New York, spent Saturday and Sunday with their brother and sister who are attending college.

Powers Pittenturf spent Sunday at his home here returning to Buena Vista to-day.

Mrs. Bonte, of Indianapolis, is at the home of Miss Annie Danner where she will spend several months.

George C. Fissel was a business visitor in Hanover to-day.

Mrs. Siegrist and Master Henry Siegrist, of Lebanon, are guests at the home of Mrs. M. Valentine on Springe avenue.

Mrs. M. Coover of Seminary Ridge is attending the May Day festivities at Wilson College where her daughter, Miss Margaret Coover, is a student.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bushman of route 5, Gettysburg, spent Thursday in Baltimore with relatives.

Edward Menchey has returned to his home here after spending several days in Harrisburg.

N. J. Gabler, G. Neal Carney, Howard Over, E. H. Frey and J. Murray Smiley, of Chambersburg, spent Sunday with friends in town.

MANY GAMES

College and High School Teams Had a Busy Day on Saturday.

Saturday was a busy day for Gettysburg's various athletic teams and several important victories were won.

The college base ball team was victorious over Mt. St. Mary's at Emmitsburg by the score of 4 to 1. Hoar pitched for Gettysburg and allowed but one hit up to the last inning. With two on base he struck out the last man and the game was won. For Gettysburg McCulloch had a clean home run and Applier circled the bases when a hot one got by a fielder. A large crowd of town and college people went over for the game.

The track team defeated Muhlenburg at Allentown by the score of 65 to 60. Gettysburg took all the firsts in the running events except the two mile run. One first was taken in the hurdles and the weights. The team returned home on Saturday evening.

The High School team was defeated at Westminster by the High School of that place in a well played game of base ball 1 to 0. Gettysburg played an errorless game.

The Prep base ball team won from Hanover High School at Hanover 10 to 9.

A twelve inning game was played on Nixon Field Saturday afternoon between Blue Ridge College and Gettysburg Reserves. Blue Ridge won in the twelfth 5 to 4. Wickersham pitched for Gettysburg and would have won if proper support had been given.

TO GIVE COMEDY

High School Alumni to Give Comedy Next Week at the Wizard.

The High School Alumni Association will produce "What Happened to Bragg", a highly laughable farce-comedy in Walter's-Wizard, on Wednesday evening, May 14. The funds will go toward some improvement at the High School and likely for the manual training department. The play is said to be the best home talent effort in recent years and should be received by a large audience. The following compose the cast, Earl Diehl, Erney Ziegler, Edgar Miller, Luther Musselman, John Blocher, Earl Stallsmith, Caroline Bream, Lily Dougherty, Nellie Weaver and Marguerite Weaver.

GOT 30 DAYS

One of Saturday Night's Disorders Given Heavy Sentence.

John Glayson, residence unknown, one of the worst of a number of drunken men on the streets of town Saturday evening was arrested by Officers Shealer and Emmons for disorderly conduct. Before Squire Harnish he was given a hearing and sentenced to the limit, thirty days in the county jail. The streets were crowded Saturday night and there was more trouble of this nature than Gettysburg has seen for many weeks.

LOST: Saturday evening in vicinity of Centre Square, a small pocket book. Reward if returned to Times Office.—advertisement. 1

OWING to the death of Mr. Kitzmiller the Reichle meat shop wagon will not make its rounds on Tuesday morning.—advertisement. 1

LETTERS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

Correspondents send in Many Items of Interesting News from their Respective Towns. Personals and Many Brief Items.

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—C. G. Shank and Brother have bought the Rether block adjoining Hotel Bigler.

The Juniata Paving Co., of Philadelphia have begun the work of paving East and West York streets. It is expected to have the two streets under the contract completed by the first of August. The material used in the construction will consist of crushed limestone with a "trap rock" surface treated with a coating of asphaltum, using the penetration method. The streets will be built from gutter to gutter.

The final work of surveying North and South Main streets was completed last week and it is expected that these two streets will be under contract before long, which will mean an expenditure of about twenty four thousand dollars. This will mean when completed about 1 1/2 miles of paved streets.

Mother's day will be observed in St. Paul's Lutheran Church next Sunday at 2 p. m. As suggested by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Floto, it wouldn't be a bad idea to have an "Old Dad's" day.

M. I. Trostle has opened a billiard room in the Rether block.

The new building being erected by U. S. Klinefelter 40 by 130 feet to be used by the Adams County Poultry, Horticultural and Agricultural Association for their show this year is nearing completion.

If the thing keeps up there will soon be as many auto owners in this town as horse owners—"13".

The town is experiencing a labor famine.

F. K. Heiges has the form up for the concrete foundation of his new dwelling and drug store building on East York street.

Painters are busy painting the new homes of E. L. Lawver, Harry Mohn and C. H. Musselman.

Since the re-opening of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville can boast of three churches that would do credit to a town much larger than this place, especially the interior arrangements, namely, Lutheran, Reformed and United Brethren, all of which have the semi-circle seating arrangement while the Reformed have an elevated floor. If the members and citizens compare favorably with the edifices we should have a God-fearing and peaceable community.

J. F. Quickle on Saturday left his pocket book containing $60 on the desk at the Reading Dairy Company plant this place where he is employed. He had intended using the money to pay some bills that morning. When he returned to get the money later in the day it was gone. Three strangers dropped off a freight here that morning and suspicion points that way.

TEACHERS GRADUATE

Reformed Sunday School Teachers Receive their Diplomas.

Graduating exercises of the Teacher Training Class of the Reformed Sunday School were held on Sunday evening when the following were presented with diplomas by Dr. T. J. Barkley, Misses Nellie Weaver, Phoebe Ogden, Eleanor Glass, Hestie Wichter, Elsie Applier, Katharine Duncan, Messrs. D. J. Swartz, Roy F. Jerr, J. A. Brosius, C. E. Ainsworth, and T. J. Winebrenner. Addresses were made by Dr. Barkley and Mr. Jerr. Mr. Fred Will, of the Seminary, was the teacher of the class.

GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Band of Hope Graduates Five. Diplomas Presented on Sunday.

The graduation exercises of the Band of Hope were held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. There were several songs by the members of the society, an address by Rev. Mr. Taylor and a talk by Mr. Miller, superintendent of the Band of Hope. Mrs. Keith presented diplomas to five graduates, Harold Dumper, John Lippy, William Weaver, Elsie Little and Carrie Biddle. Pauline Lestz gave her recitation for which she was awarded a medal at the recent entertainment in Brua Chapel.

WANTED: light work by a girl 16 years old. None but Gettysburg people need apply. Inquire or address Times Office.—advertisement. 1

WANTED several good men to scrape wall paper. Apply at Eagle Hotel to Mr. F. Connolly.—advertisement. 1

PILSNER, Hofbrau, Beck beers on draft at Hotel Gettysburg.—advertisement. 1

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES
Published Daily Except Sunday
Times and News Publishing Company
W. LAVERE HAFER, Secretary and Treasurer.
PHILIP R. BIKLE, Editor
SUBSCRIPTION Served by carrier in Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
Mailed outside of Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
RATES Single copies to non-subscribers, 2 cents.
IF you receive THE TIMES by mail you can find the date up to which you are paid on the pink address label on your paper. The date will be changed within ten days after your money is received at The Times Office.
Entered August 15, 1904, at Gettysburg, Pa., as second-class matter, under Congress March 3, 1879.
BELL PHONE UNITED PHONE
Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.
THIS PAPER REPRESENTS FOR FOREIGN ADVERTISING BY THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
GENERAL OFFICES NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

Want ads. One cent per word each insertion. Two cents a word if guaranteed first page position. Resolutions of respect, poetry and memoriams one cent per word.
TO OUR READERS
The Gettysburg Times takes absolutely no part in politics, being neutral on all such matters. Anything that appears in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is furnished us by The American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan.
Our advertising columns are open to all candidates of all parties.

It Will Pay You To See
OUR NEW SHOES
Samples in our Hat Window.
Our Special $2.98 Shoe is $3.50 quality.
Our $1.98 Shoes have no competition.
C. B. KITZMILLER.

FOR SALE
600 live chestnut poles 22 feet long, 4 inch top. Ready for delivery after July 15. Can be seen standing at camp of veterans, 50th Anniversary. Any reasonable offer accepted.
T. P. TURNER,
Gettysburg Lighting Co.

RESTORE YOUR GREY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL AND NATURAL COLOR
Easily, Quickly, Surely, Safely, by Hay's Hair Health
Don't neglect your hair or allow it to become grey, thin, dry or lifeless. A beautiful head of natural colored, luxuriant radiant hair is priceless to every woman. Why not have it and keep it so? Why be prematurely grey and grow old-looking before your time? By all means don't let your hair become grey or faded and full of irritating and annoying dandruff when Hay's Hair Health will bring back its youthful color and remove the dandruff almost immediately.
It is simple, safe, easy to use and harmless. Its use cannot be detected. Don't waste time thinking or worrying about your grey hair, or take chances with new and untried preparations—get a bottle of Hay's Hair Health today. It's so nice and clean to use and has been used and given absolute satisfaction for twenty-five years. Give it a fair trial; the grey hairs will disappear in no time and you'll be delighted with it.
Druggists guarantee to refund your money if you are not satisfied with Hay's Hair Health.
Free: Sign this adv. and take it to the following druggists and get a 50c. bottle of Hay's Hair Health and a 25c. cake of Harfina Soap for 50c.; or $1.00 bottle of Hay's Hair Health and two 25c. cakes of Harfina Soap Free, for $1.
J. H. Huber and People's Drug Store

Gettysburg - Business - Directory
Where to buy the things you need.

MARTIN WINTER Insurance and Real Estate
YOHE'S BAKERY Bread, Cakes and Confectionery Soda Water
NOW is the time to buy your Dishes, Knives and Forks, for the 50th anniversary. Give us your order.
TRIMMER'S 5 and 10 cent Store
C. C. BREAM Farming Implements Buggies and Harness
W. H. TIPTON PHOTOGRAPHER Gettysburg Souvenir
The Drug Shop H. C. LANDAU Opposite Eagle Hotel
H. B. BENDER FUNERAL DIRECTOR Telephone calls promptly answered day or night. Phone No. House 153 W. No. Store 97 W.
SPANGLER'S MUSIC HOUSE for Pianos and Musical Instruments Sheet Music Phonograph Records
RAYMOND'S AUTO KITCHEN A la Carte Service At any time Regular Dinner 12 to 1
CHAS. S. KUMPER Fire Proof Storage Warehouse for Furniture and Household Goods stored for any length of time.
Have your Watches, Clocks and Jewels repaired at Benson Myer Jeweler, Baltimore Street, Gettysburg.
RICE PRODUCE COMPANY Highest Cash Prices Paid for all FARM PRODUCE Under Times Office, Gettysburg.

Medical advertising
NERVOUS?
All run down? Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a strong nerve tonic. No alcohol. Sold for 60 years. Ask Your Doctor. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Painful Corns Removed -By New Painless Remedy
You're a chump to suffer a day longer. Every one of those stinging corns can be peacefully and quickly removed by painting on Putnam's Corn Extractor. It's really a marvel how Putnam's Extractor takes out the pain how it draws out the soreness, how it lifts the corn right out of the core. It is a neat clean job that Putnam's Extractor does—no remedy so quick and sure as a 25c bottle of Putnam's Extractor—sold and recommended by druggists and People's Drug Store.

Stop and Read
The biggest bargain of the season.
Why not breed English Penciled Indian Runner Ducks, the kind that lay large pure white eggs and lots of them. We have a duck that laid 226 eggs in 243 consecutive days, eggs from these kind of layers at $1.25 per 13. For further particulars write to A. W. Harlan & Son, Gettysburg, R. 10.
Effective March 16th, 1913. THE WESTERN MARYLAND RAILWAY
8:41 A. M. Daily Except Sunday for Baltimore, Hanover, York and Intermediate Points.
10:08 A. M. Daily for Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Hancock, Cumberland, Elkins and Points West.
12:55 P. M. for York and Intermediate Points.
3:15 P. M. Daily, for Baltimore, Hanover, and Intermediate Points.
5:58 P. M. Daily except Sunday for B. and H. Division Points to Highfield, also Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Shippensburg and Hancock, Pittsburg and all points West.
Sunday Only. Baltimore and Intermediate stations. York, Baltimore and Intermediate stations. A. R. Merrick, Gen. Supt.

Your eyes examined carefully without drops. Home Office 29 E. Pomfret St. Carlisle Branch Office, Pen Myers' Jewelry Store, Gettysburg. Every Tuesday. W. H. DINKLE, Graduate of Optics
GETTYSBURG MARKETS
Prices at the Gettysburg warehouse corrected daily by C. Milton Wolf, Jr., Successor to J. Geo. Wolf & Sons Co. Per Bu.
New Dry Wheat ..... $1.00
New Ear Corn ..... 60
Rye ..... 70
New Oats ..... 35
RETAIL PRICES Per 100
Badger Dairy Feed ..... $1.35
Coarse Spring Bran ..... 1.30
Hand Packed Bran ..... 1.30
Cotton Seed Meal ..... 1.65
Cotton Seed Meal ..... 1.65
Corn and Oats Chop ..... 1.35
Shoemaker Stock Food ..... 1.35
White Middlings ..... 1.60
Red Middlings ..... 1.50
Timothy Hay ..... 1.50
Lye Chop ..... 1.70
Baled Straw ..... .60
Plaster ..... $7.00 per ton
Cement ..... $1.35 per bbl.
Flour ..... $5.20
Western Flour ..... 6.40
Wheat ..... 1.20
New Ear Corn ..... 70
Shelled Corn ..... 70
New Oats ..... 45
New Oats ..... 45
New York Market—Henery White Fancy Eggs, 23 and 25 cents.

Want a IS COMING

SHERANDOAH
By HENRY TYRRELL
Founded on BRONSON HOWARD'S Great Play
A Stirring Story of Military Adventure and of a Strange Wartime Wooing
Copyright, 1912, by G. P. Putnam's Sons

The corporal began a minute search.

poral threw open his coat and began a minute search. He found first a paper, which he handed to Kerchival, who gave it to his general. "General Houser will rejoin General Early with all the cavalry in his command," read the old warrior eagerly. Here Corporal Dunn gave Kerchival a small packet, which, when unwrapped, proved to contain a miniature picture. "A portrait of Mrs. Haverill!" muttered the young officer with a start. He mentioned the corporal to retire and, taking his place, asked Thornton in a low voice, "How did this portrait come into your possession?"

"That is my affair, not yours." "Anything else, colonel?" called General Buckthorn, who had seated himself on the garden bench to pore over the captured dispatch. "Nothing," answered Kerchival, putting the miniature carefully away in his breast pocket. "Curse you, you'll give that back to me yet," hissed Thornton, "and we have an old score to settle before I'm through. Don't think you are going to escape me so easily as this!"

"Corporal, take away your prisoner," was Kerchival's only reply. "Just as I thought," said General Buckthorn, reading "The enemy has a big movement on foot. Listen to this: Watch for signal from Three Top mountain."

"We are still in hopes that we may be able to read that signal ourselves," said Kerchival. "Yes, I know. It is pretty near time for Barker to be back with some tidings of the expedition. Be on your guard here. I will speak with General Haverill and then ride over to General Wright's headquarters. Keep us informed."

It was twilight—the soft, lingering, evening twilight of that idyllic valley. When next the anxious heart of Kerchival West was thrilled with the sight of Gertrude.

"You are still on guard, Colonel West?" she said, but her tone had none of the old delicious, friendly chirping in it. "I am giving you no aid of trouble."

"I like it. If you don't mind, Gertrude," he replied, somewhat languidly for a stern soldier. "I am posted here, you know. The signalmen will report to me at this spot—may be along any minute. We are watching for signals from the mountain."

"Your men might not have caught me this morning if I had had Jack, my own pet horse. But I lent him to Brother Robert for a cavalry mount, and the enemy captured him at Winchester."

"If he is in our cavalry I'll get him back for you, Gertrude. I'll give one of my own horses to the government or I'll buy him outright at any price and bring him back to you. Anything that is mine, dear Gertrude, you know."

"Oh, thank you, my dear Kerchival! I could almost—"

"Almost confess that—that you don't hate me?" he cried joyously, grasping her hand. "Oh, Gertrude, I have dreamed of a meeting like this. You are silent?"

"Kerchival," she began, with pathetic half yielding—"oh, is this your whole regiment coming up?"

"It's the signalmen. Don't go, I command you!"

"I must go now, but I'll be back if you insist. I am your prisoner. Only don't read that letter for the world."

Before the signalmen reached the house Corporal Dunn came hurrying ahead of them to announce that his prisoner, Captain Thornton, had escaped.

"He had a knife hidden in his boot, sir, and he slashed two of the guard and got away while my back was turned for a minute. He's like a mad dog, sir."

A flash of fire on the dusky mountain top was the "call" or opening of the enemy's long awaited communication. It brought Captain Lockwood up precipitately.

While they were watching the signals through their glasses General Haverill arrived, accompanied by two staff officers.

"Can you make anything of it, captain?" he asked. "Nothing, general, until we get the key," was the reply. "It should be here, if Lieutenant Bedloe has succeeded."

A shot rang out from the direction of the gate followed by a cry of "Halt! Who goes there?"

"Och, ye murdherin' spalpeen!" cried the voice of Sergeant Barker. "Pass on!" called the sentinel. "He didn't give the countersign," said Kerchival. "Must be news from Lieutenant Bedloe."

"Here's the papers," panted Barker, running up, covered with dust and with one arm limp. Captain Lockwood took the code book he brought and hurried up the elevation back of the house.

"What of Lieutenant Bedloe, sergeant?" "Badly wounded, sir, and in the hands of the enemy. But he fit off the whole gang until we came up and got the papers."

"And Captain Hartsense?" "Shot down at his side, sir. May be dead, I dunno. But please don't say anything to Miss Jenny yet. She'll find out soon enough. Och! Me arm is hurt. Sure, I forgot the sentry entirely, but he didn't forget me."

"Kerchival," she began, with pathetic half yielding—"oh, is this your whole regiment coming up?"

"It's the signalmen. Don't go, I command you!"

"I must go now, but I'll be back if you insist. I am your prisoner. Only don't read that letter for the world."

Before the signalmen reached the house Corporal Dunn came hurrying ahead of them to announce that his prisoner, Captain Thornton, had escaped.

"He had a knife hidden in his boot, sir, and he slashed two of the guard and got away while my back was turned for a minute. He's like a mad dog, sir."

A flash of fire on the dusky mountain top was the "call" or opening of the enemy's long awaited communication. It brought Captain Lockwood up precipitately.

While they were watching the signals through their glasses General Haverill arrived, accompanied by two staff officers.

"Can you make anything of it, captain?" he asked. "Nothing, general, until we get the key," was the reply. "It should be here, if Lieutenant Bedloe has succeeded."

A shot rang out from the direction of the gate followed by a cry of "Halt! Who goes there?"

"Och, ye murdherin' spalpeen!" cried the voice of Sergeant Barker. "Pass on!" called the sentinel. "He didn't give the countersign," said Kerchival. "Must be news from Lieutenant Bedloe."

"Here's the papers," panted Barker, running up, covered with dust and with one arm limp. Captain Lockwood took the code book he brought and hurried up the elevation back of the house.

"What of Lieutenant Bedloe, sergeant?" "Badly wounded, sir, and in the hands of the enemy. But he fit off the whole gang until we came up and got the papers."

"And Captain Hartsense?" "Shot down at his side, sir. May be dead, I dunno. But please don't say anything to Miss Jenny yet. She'll find out soon enough. Och! Me arm is hurt. Sure, I forgot the sentry entirely, but he didn't forget me."

"Kerchival," she began, with pathetic half yielding—"oh, is this your whole regiment coming up?"

"It's the signalmen. Don't go, I command you!"

"Kerchival," she began, with pathetic half yielding—"oh, is this your whole regiment coming up?"

"It's the signalmen. Don't go, I command you!"

"I must go now, but I'll be back if you insist. I am your prisoner. Only don't read that letter for the world."

Before the signalmen reached the house Corporal Dunn came hurrying ahead of them to announce that his prisoner, Captain Thornton, had escaped.

"He had a knife hidden in his boot, sir, and he slashed two of the guard and got away while my back was turned for a minute. He's like a mad dog, sir."

A flash of fire on the dusky mountain top was the "call" or opening of the enemy's long awaited communication. It brought Captain Lockwood up precipitately.

While they were watching the signals through their glasses General Haverill arrived, accompanied by two staff officers.

"Can you make anything of it, captain?" he asked. "Nothing, general, until we get the key," was the reply. "It should be here, if Lieutenant Bedloe has succeeded."

A shot rang out from the direction of the gate followed by a cry of "Halt! Who goes there?"

"Och, ye murdherin' spalpeen!" cried the voice of Sergeant Barker. "Pass on!" called the sentinel. "He didn't give the countersign," said Kerchival. "Must be news from Lieutenant Bedloe."

"Here's the papers," panted Barker, running up, covered with dust and with one arm limp. Captain Lockwood took the code book he brought and hurried up the elevation back of the house.

"What of Lieutenant Bedloe, sergeant?" "Badly wounded, sir, and in the hands of the enemy. But he fit off the whole gang until we came up and got the papers."

"And Captain Hartsense?" "Shot down at his side, sir. May be dead, I dunno. But please don't say anything to Miss Jenny yet. She'll find out soon enough. Och! Me arm is hurt. Sure, I forgot the sentry entirely, but he didn't forget me."

"Kerchival," she began, with pathetic half yielding—"oh, is this your whole regiment coming up?"

"It's the signalmen. Don't go, I command you!"

"I love you! I have loved you all the time!"

The night of Oct. 18 was full of inquietude and alarms for the inmates of Belle Bosquet. A Federal guard was posted there, and Barker served as courier. Neither Jenny nor Madeline West would think now of going on to Winchester, with Kerchival West in a precarious condition and the fate of Captain Hartsense still uncertain. General Haverill did not return to the house, but joined General Buckthorn at the front, where, it was understood, General Wright was making every possible preparation pending the return of Sheridan, for guarding against and resisting an attack upon his right, which was the only point at which he apprehended immediate trouble.

Before daybreak on the morning of the 19th Madeline and Gertrude, who occupied a room together, were awakened by firing in the distance up the valley to the southward. Jenny Buckthorn, in an adjoining chamber, heard their voices and joined them for companionship and sympathy. Alas, what a changed, subdued Jenny within the last twenty-four hours!

The girls dressed hurriedly in silence and came downstairs. Already Kerchival West, haggard and excited looking, was pacing the veranda like a caged animal. Barker had been down to the pike for reconnaissance and now came back with startling news.

"It's a battle, sure!" he said. "An Sheridan away, the devil only knows where. Regob, they must have attacked by surprise before the screech of dawn, Judem' from!"

"Who has attacked? Who is surprised?" demanded Kerchival with furious impatience. "The enemy has attacked us, sir, and what's more, they seem to be driving things before 'em. By the direction of the fire it should be our left flank they have pounced upon instead of the right, where they were daintily expected. Sure, them rebels have no politeness now!"

"Do you mean to say our troops are falling back?" "Well, sir, I did hear some cavalry gallop down the pike, but whether it was ours or theirs or only Mosby's gorrillas, that I can't tell yet."

"Then I'll go and find out for myself!" Kerchival cried fiercely, making a move into the hallway for his hat. The sudden exertion proved too much for him, and he sank into a chair, clutching with one hand at his breast.

"Hark! There is the firing again, worse than ever, and it is coming nearer," said Gertrude, unconscious of a certain exultation in her tone. "If General Longstreet only has—I mean if really he—"

"He can never drive General Sheridan back—that I am certain," spoke up Madeline with unwonted spirit. "Let us go—oh, pardon me, Gertrude—Indies—I beg," said Kerchival, starting up, then at once seating himself again.

But they all had risen, as impatient as he was, and hurried out. Kerchival and Gertrude took the path up the elevation to where the big cottonwood tree overlooked the valley. Jenny and Madeline lingered on the veranda.

"Go on, go on!" muttered Kerchival instinctively feeling for his sword and looking longingly in the direction from which came the roar of the guns. "Fight to a finish and have it over. Know the battle to yourselves."

"I'm out of it," "Kerchival," said Gertrude, "your sister Madeline says that now she must pray for the man she loves, enemy or no enemy."

"And she is right. Anything else would be worse than treason. I can't pray. Can you, Gertrude?" "Yes. Ah, Kerchival!"

He leaned against the tree, his hand clutching at his breast again. "Your wound! Let me call the surgeon, Kerchival!"

"Wound! I have no wound to bother about now. You love me?" "Look! There are soldiers running through the woods. Oh, what shall we do?"

The firing, very close now, was faster and more furious than ever. It seemed to have given Kerchival West new breath of life. "Never mind that!" he cried deliriously. "It's only a battle! See that you love me!"

"Be quiet, Kerchival, dear. I do love you. I said so last night before every one, only you didn't hear me. I said the same thing at Charleston when first we met. And some one I told wrote it in a letter—that letter which General Buckthorn gave you and told you not to read unless I became unruly. I am not unruly, am I, dear?"

"No, my precious girl! Nothing can separate us now. That letter—he searched in his pockets, but could not find it. 'Ah, I remember! They must have taken it when I was laid out by Thornton's dagger. And—a miniature I had—that's gone too!'"

Josephus Orangeblossom on a mule without saddle dashed up from the direction of the pike, shouting: "Miss Gertrude, Marse Bob he done get a yard around dis house, but 'tain' no use now, for de Yanks is runnin' away. We's got 'em licked, missy; we sho' has!"

"Regob, the naygur's right," confirmed Sergeant Barker. "The gray-back divils have sprung up out of the ground. They're pourin' over our lift flank like Noah's own flood. Our camp is wiped out, an' they've got our guns an' wagons an' wounded an' prisoners, an' the whole Union army is a starthin' to beat it down the pike for Winchester, worse luck! Colonel West, yonder is your own regiment in full retreat!"

"My regiment!" roared Kerchival, jumping up. "Great God, no! Get my horse, Barker! I'll stop that or—" "Yer horse, is it? Nooool! I'm wid ye, colonel! There's a row at Finnekan's ball, an' we're goin' to be in it!"

"Kerchival," pleaded Gertrude, throwing her arms around him, "you must not go! You may be dying!" "Dying nothing! I'm all right now, Gertrude, my life! My regiment won't retreat any farther unless it retreats over my dead body!"

"Here's yer horse, colonel! Now give me that mule, ye black contraband naygur!" called Barker, wild with joy, to the rolling eyed Josephus. "Goodby, Gertrude, darling! Tell Madeline! Pray for us!"

And two flying figures hurried themselves down the hillside into the roaring maelstrom of battle that filled the valley.

(To be continued)

BASE BALL SCORES.

Following is the Result of Games Played Saturday and Sunday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Saturday's Games.
At New York—Athletics, 8; New York, 6. Batteries—Houch, Bush; Thomas, Schultz; Keating, Klepper; Sweeney.
At St. Louis—Cleveland, 11; St. Louis, 8. Batteries—Baskette, Mitchell; Carisch, Hamilton, Adams, Allison, Stone, Agnew.
At Detroit—Chicago, 6; Detroit, 4. Batteries—Benz, Russell, Schalk; Hill, House, Arckee.
At Boston—Washington, 2; Boston, 1. Batteries—Engel, Johnson, Alb; Smith; Bedient, Nunamaker.
Sunday's Games.
At Chicago—Detroit, 2; Chicago, 1. Batteries—Lubag, Stange; White, Lange, Easterly.
At St. Louis—St. Louis, 4; Cleveland, 3. Batteries—Land, Carisch; Mitchell, Steen, Agnew, Alexander; McAllister, Baumgardner.

Standing of the Clubs.
W. L. P. C.
Athletics, 12 3 89; St. Louis, 9 12 424; Washin., 10 4 714; Boston, 7 10 412; Cleveland, 13 6 684; Detroit, 6 14 306; Chicago, 13 9 591; N. York, 2 14 122.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Saturday's Games.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 3; New York, 2. Batteries—Chalmers, Killifer, Doolin; Mathewson, Meyers, Wilson.
At Chicago—Cincinnati, 9; Chicago, 4. Batteries—Benton, Clark; Overall, Lavender, Archer.
At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 4; Boston, 1. Batteries—Rucker, Miller; Gervais, Whaling.
At Pittsburgh—St. Louis, 6; Pitts, 3. Batteries—Stagle, Harmon, McLean; O'Toole, Robinson, Simon.

Sunday's Games.
At Chicago—St. Louis, 10; Chicago, 8 (13 innings). Batteries—Perrett, Sallee, Willis, Cather, McLean; Richie, Humphries, Archer.
At Cincinnati—Pittsburgh, 1; Cincinnati, 0. Batteries—Adams, Kelly; Fromme, Clark.
Standing of the Clubs.
W. L. P. C.
Phillada., 8 4 667; N. York., 8 7 533; Chicago., 13 7 650; Pittsburg, 10 9 532; St. Louis, 11 8 579; Boston., 4 11 267; Brooklyn., 9 7 568; Cincinnati., 4 14 222.

TRI-STATE LEAGUE.
Saturday's Games.
At Harrisburg—Harrisburg, 12; Allentown, 3. Batteries—Bressler, Wene; Johns, Topham, Monroe.
At York—York, 5; Atlantic City, 4. Batteries—Stricker, Knotts; Balling, er, Wallace, Boezle.
At Wilmington—Trenton, 5; Wilmington, 3. Batteries—Oldham, Mitchell; Connell, Brown, Kerr.
Standing of the Clubs.
W. L. P. C.
Harrisburg., 3 1 750; York., 3 1 756; Trenton., 3 1 750; Allentown., 4 0 000; Wilmington., 3 1 750; Atl. City., 0 4 000.

Daughter Born to Queen of Greece.
Washington, May 5.—A new princess was added to the royal household of Greece. The Greek legation received a cablegram announcing the birth of a daughter to the queen.

Man Sees After Nineteen Years.
Lincoln, Pa., May 5.—After being nearly totally blind for nineteen years Hiram Fry had an operation performed on his eyes and the same proved so successful that he is able to see.

MAY CHECK LAW BY REFERENDUM

To Appeal to Californians to Vot Anti-Japanese Act.

UP TO GOVERNOR JOHNSON

The Assembly Passes Measure by Big Majority—Secretary Bryan Heading Home.

Sacramento, Cal., May 5.—The opponents of anti-Japanese legislation are banking strongly on the referendum to delay a crisis and give time for amicable adjustment with Japan.

The Webb bill, passed by the assembly with a big majority, is in Governor Johnson's hands. He will probably sign it.

A referendum petition would require 20,000 signatures before the law could be temporarily nullified, pending an election. The matter could not be submitted to the people until the fall of 1914, a delay of nineteen months, in case the proposed referendum petition gained enough signatures.

Representatives of the board of directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco have intimated that the board might foster a movement to invoke the referendum against any anti-alien bill that might be passed. Recently the exposition company has been joined by several commercial and trade bodies in the larger cities, who fear Japan will levy reprisals upon California by abrogating present business relations.

As Secretary Bryan concluded his mission with a message of farewell to the joint session of the two houses, he gave renewed assurance of the friendly interest and co-operative attitude of the national administration toward the peculiar problems of California, transmitting the president's latest criticism of the bill and re-hearing against those objections already made public. In reply Senator Gates, speaking for the state, said:

"This legislature appreciates the honor that has been done to this state by the visit of the secretary of state. We realize that his coming to co-operate with us marks an era in American politics. It brings the federal government into close touch with the individual states.

"On the part of the legislature I wish to express our profound appreciation and gratitude for the interest taken by the national government in a problem confronting the state of California, and to assure the president that, even if we may differ with him, we do it with the profoundest respect for his opinions and those of the secretary of state. And if we feel impelled to depart from that advice, we do it with respect for that advice.

"I propose and desire on the part of this legislature to thank the president and his secretary for their assistance, and I express the hope that this visit may be a forerunner of further activity by the national government in assisting the states in their work."

Secretary Bryan in his address voiced the president's opinion that the words "eligible to citizenship" substituted in the California attorney general's redraft of the alien land measure for the words "ineligible to citizenship" were equally discriminatory and, therefore, objectionable to Japan. If a law must pass, he urged that it be limited in its operation to two years, in order that meanwhile diplomacy might so improve the international situation that re-enactment by the next legislature would be unnecessary.

This suggestion, which had not yet reached the president, he said, was made "for the consideration of those who have yet to act upon the subject."

SUICIDE PLANNED FUNERAL

Girl Hangs Herself in Abandoned House; Tired of Life, Note Said.

Huntingdon, Pa., May 5.—The second suicide by hanging in this county inside of twenty-four hours occurred when the body of Miss Mary E. Mosser was found in the attic of an abandoned farm house a quarter of a mile from the farm of her father, William L. Mosser, a well known fruit grower, along the Raystown branch, five miles from Huntingdon.

Leaving a note for her father, saying she was tired of life and giving in detail plans for her funeral and how she wanted to be dressed for her burial, she fastened a chain over the attic rafter, put a noose attached to the chain around her neck and kicked a bushel peach basket from under her. She had been dead two hours when found.

SIX CHILDREN DROWNED

Hired a Rowboat Without an Adult Accompanying Them.

Boston, May 5.—As the result of a boating tragedy in which six children lost their lives the police are conducting an investigation as to how it happened that eight children were allowed to hire a boat in the Charles river without an adult accompanying them.

It also claimed that the boat that was hired with pennies contributed by the children had a rotten plank bottom that would have caused an older person to reject it as unsafe, and that the sinking of the boat was caused by the plank breaking under the foot of one of the drowned girls.

The only two rescued were John Walker and Anthony Myneskey, of Cambridge. They are both to be questioned by the police. The police have only recovered three of the six bodies.

Breaks Woman's Broad Jump Mark. Lynchburg, Va., May 5.—Miss Dorothy Cure, of Roanoke, Va., cleared 15 feet 2 1/2 inches on a running broad jump in the annual athletic meet at the Randolph-Macon Woman's college, making what is claimed to be the world's record for women in that event.

BRYAN AND JOHNSON.

Secretary of State and Governor In Contrasting Moods.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Both the distinguished gentlemen felt in better spirits before they conferred about the proposed anti-alien land owners' law in California than they did afterward, as will be noted in their varying expressions.

MASQUERADED AS MAN FOR OVER 50 YEARS

Fought in Civil War and Now in Soldiers' Home.

Quincy, Ill., May 5.—To go masquerading as a man for over fifty years without detection is the record of a woman inmate of the Soldiers' and Sailors' home in this city, who is enrolled under the name of "Albert D. J. Cashier."

The woman adopted the garb of a man before the Civil War, in which she fought for three years, and has worn the clothes and taken the part of a man since. Only twice has her secret become known and it was not until Sunday that it was made public.

The woman has been in the Soldiers' home nearly two years and has always been extremely companionable with the other members. She has become enfeebled mentally, and her secret became known to the authorities at the home a few months ago when two male attendants attempted to give her a bath. She appealed to a female nurse and told her story. So far the authorities have been unable to learn her real identity. She keeps it a profound secret, as she did the secret of her sex during the last half century.

The first time her secret became known was two years ago, when she was run over by an automobile owned by ex-Senator J. M. Lish, in Livingston county. Her leg was broken then, but Mr. Lish, by whom she was employed as chauffeur, never betrayed her long guarded identity.

The woman soldier is a native of Ireland, and claims to have come to this country before the Civil War broke out. She donned boy's clothing and obtained passage across the Atlantic as a stowaway. When the struggle between the north and south broke out she enlisted in Company G, Ninety-fifth Illinois Infantry, and served three years in the war. When her company was mustered out the records show there were only thirty survivors.

KILLS TWO, WOUNDS ONE

Unknown Man Shoots Down New York Policeman.

New York, May 5.—An unidentified man in front of a Mulberry street billiard parlor shot and killed two men, William Heaney, a private policeman, and John R. Rezzo, a citizen, and mortally wounded Policeman Charles Teare.

Heaney grappled with the armed man after Rezzo was slain. After killing Heaney the man threatened to shoot any one who tried to interfere with his escape. Teare attempted to capture him and received bullets in the neck and abdomen.

Police reserves searched every house in the block and made several arrests, but would not say they had apprehended the murderer or discovered the cause of the affray.

HELD FAST BY CEMENT

Man Who Fell Asleep on New Steps Had to Be Chiseled Loose.

Rochester, Pa., May 5.—Anthony Rodowski may never have his statue perpetuated in bronze, but he will always remember the day that he fell asleep on his neighbor's freshly cemented steps.

Anthony came home the other evening heavily burdened within and with out, and his load was too much for him to bear. The tired man, thinking he had reached the threshold of his own door, sat down and fell asleep.

The night air was cool and soothing and Anthony slept there till daylight, and he would still be there had it not been for the timely assistance of his neighbors, who hurried in response to his cries when he found that the cement had hardened overnight and that it was essential that he be loosened from his stony prison.

Picks and chisels were brought and Anthony was liberated, but not before the steps were ruined, and now the neighbor wants damages for the injury to his property.

RICH MEN'S SONS WORK AS MINERS

H. S. Vanderbilt and G. F. Baker, Jr., Filled Coal Car.

WORE REGULATION GARB

Young Millionaires Spent a Night Digging Coal and Loading in Wilkes Barre Colliery.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 5.—Miners in this city are still discussing the unusual grit displayed by Harold S. Vanderbilt and George F. Baker, Jr., the young millionaires, who worked a shift in the Tuesday mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company, at Nanticoke, last Wednesday night.

The workmen only learned the identity of the young men, who as miner and laborer, cut enough coal to fill a regulation car, Saturday, when officials told them.

Young Vanderbilt and Baker, the latter a son of one of the biggest financial men in America, accompanied Vice President E. E. Loomis, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, on a tour of the road and mines. Both wore overalls, blouse, cap and lamp and gloves common in the mining region.

Mr. Loomis taught them how to dig into the coal lodes and left them to toil for several hours. They filled the car with the coal hewn out by their own hands and left the mine about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, after five hours underground.

Vanderbilt is a son of William K. Vanderbilt, and is a graduate of Harvard. While in college he was popular as an athlete, as he was a member of the Cercle Francais. He was assistant manager of the "Varsity" eleven for a year.

In July of 1907 young Vanderbilt caused a great deal of alarm by getting lost on his sloop yacht Trivia between New London, Conn., and the Jamestown exposition. He and his party were missing ten days before they put in an appearance at Old Point Comfort, Va.

In 1903 and several times since then young Vanderbilt was the center of interest again. This was caused by a rumor that he was engaged to marry Miss Eleanor Sears, a tennis enthusiast and a devotee of many other outdoor sports.

SAVE WOMAN FROM MOB

Officials Avert Lynching by Friends of Man She Slew.

Crown Point, Ind., May 5.—Mrs. Grace Smith, who shot and killed Clarence Murphy at Gary last Wednesday night, escaped a threatened lynching at the hands of friends of the slain man by the aid of Mayor Knotts and Chief of Police Neuman of Gary, who brought her to Crown Point in an automobile.

Murphy was a popular member of the Gary local of the Switchmen's union, and when members of the order learned that it was proposed to take his slayer to the county seat they held a meeting, at which it was determined to lynch her, or at least to give her a coat of tar and feathers. The mob made no secret of its purpose and determined to lay in wait for the interurban car on which it had been in order to transfer the prisoner.

To outwit the mob the mayor and the chief of police left Gary with the prisoner over a road at a safe distance from the street car line. They were armed with rifles and pistols and followed by several automobiles full of curious persons. The change of route deceived the mob, and the trip was without incident.

TWO GO OVER DAM TO DEATH

Third Saved Near Reading By Clinging to Tree Limb.

Reading, Pa., May 5.—Two men were drowned and a third had a narrow escape when a rowboat containing three fishermen swept over the breast of a dam in the Schuylkill river near Klap perthal.

The dead are: Matthew Pawling, aged forty years; Anthony Lemmer, forty-five years old. Harry Luebka, thirty-five years old, saved himself by clinging to the projecting limb of a tree until he was rescued by other fishermen.

High Value on Woman's Love.

Trenton, N. J., May 5.—For his wife's affections Frederick C. Mansfield brought suit in the supreme court against John E. Shepherd for $100,000. Mansfield charges Shepherd with luring Mrs. Mansfield from him last February and maliciously convincing her that she did not care for her husband. He asks damages for the destruction of his social standing and happiness.

Takes Four Poisons to Die.

Fargo, N. D., May 5.—David L. Sundquist, a railway engineer, took the contents of four phials, each containing a different poison. He is still living, but doctors hold out little hope of his recovery.

Evelyn 'How Sails With Child.

New York, May 5.—Evelyn Thaw sailed by the White Star liner Olymp. She will leave the ship at Cherbourg and go thence to Paris. She had a child with her, said to be about three years old.

Colliding Fliers Escape.

Chalons, France, May 5.—Two military air pilots were slightly injured in a collision between a biplane and a monoplane at a low altitude on the military aerodrome. Captain Vicome Leon Claude Suisse de Saint-Claire and Lieutenant Decas, of the military aviation corps, both fell to the ground and their machines were shattered.

Pope Daily at His Tasks.

Rome, May 5.—Pope Pius continues to progress in his recovery of his

WILLIAM B. WILSON.

Secretary of Labor Organizes His Department.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

LABOR DEPARTMENT GOING

Secretary Wilson Appoints His Clerical Assistants.

Washington, May 5.—Secretary Wilson organized the clerical force of the department of labor, appointing Robert Watson, of Lowell, Mass., chief clerk; George C. Box, Buffalo, N. Y., disbursing clerk; Hugh L. Kerwin, of Wellsboro, Pa., private secretary, and Samuel Gompers, Jr., son of the president of the American Federation of Labor, chief of the division of public relations.

HALF RESPOND TO NEW SERUM

No Settled Results From Tuberculosis Cure.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 5.—That 50 per cent of the cases treated by himself and other physicians with the tuberculosis serum he received from Dr. Piorokowski have yielded to treatment was the statement made by Dr. Austin B. Heid, the first practitioner to use the Friedman serum in this country.

Dr. Heid, however, frankly admitted that he had been puzzled by developments in many cases after he had used the serum. He said: "My experience with the serum, covering four months, has fully satisfied me in some cases, while in the others I have been at a loss to understand the results, or rather the lack of them. Taking the cases treated by myself and other physicians to whom I sent the remedy, I will go on record as saying that the serum has fully cured about 50 per cent of the patients treated."

"Strangely enough, in many cases where we have expected a cure, there has been little or no improvement, while several patients whom we did not believe had a chance for recovery are progressing nicely or have entirely recovered."

One of the most remarkable cures registered by the serum in Pittsburgh is that of James Aitkenhead, of 502 Second street, North Side. Twelve weeks ago Aitkenhead was taken to Dr. Heid's office in an automobile, and he had to be assisted from the car. On his second trip, three weeks later, he went in the street car. The third trip to see Dr. Heid was made by Aitkenhead alone, and part of the way on foot. He declares he is cured, and several physicians have admitted that he is rapidly regaining his normal health.

COW BEATS HORSE IN RACE

Bossy Outstrips Pacer on Track and Owner Wins $24.

New Richmond, Wis., May 5.—To settle a controversy of long standing as to their racing ability, a contest between a cow and a racing mare, owned by rival hotelkeepers in this city drew a big crowd to the fair grounds.

The cow is the property of Anthony Meath, proprietor of the Commercial house, and the horse is owned by George Cranston, of the National hotel. The horse either was to trot or pace, the cow to go as she pleased. It was to be once around the half-mile track, standing start. The cow was a safe winner. Colonel Meath's winnings aggregated $24.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather
Albany.....	70	Clear.
Atlantic City..	54	Cloudy.
Boston.....	58	Clear.
Chicago.....	72	P. Cloudy.
Buffalo.....	70	Cloudy.
New Orleans...	72	Cloudy.
New York.....	62	Cloudy.
Philadelphia...	64	Clear.
St. Louis.....	72	P. Cloudy.
Washington....	80	Clear.

The Weather.

Fair today; unsettled tomorrow; south winds.

health. Every day he descends to his library and devotes several hours to his work. It is learned that one of his first acts after he became convalescent was to appoint Dr. Andrea Amici his private physician.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—To stop "spoofing" in Swope park Chief of Police Griffin said he hoped soon to install upon one of the high towers of the park shelter house a powerful searchlight, "whose eagle eye would bring into the limelight all couples secluded over the 1200 acres of hill and dale the park contains."

RUSHING TARIFF BILL THROUGH

Measure Expected to Pass the House by Wednesday.

OUTLOOK IN THE SENATE

Republicans Plan to Offer Wool and Sugar Amendments to Embarrass Democrats Who Favor Duty.

Washington, May 5.—Legislative activities in the matter of tariff legislation will be transferred this week from the house to the senate.

The Underwood bill will be passed by the house before the week is over, probably tomorrow or Wednesday, and be "messaged over to the senate." The first step in the senate will be to refer it to the finance committee. The Democratic members of that committee will take the measure and consider it behind closed doors.

As a matter of fact the committee has been considering it for at least two weeks. The Democrats have a majority of six over all opposition. It looks now as if the Republicans and the lone Progressive, Poindexter, of Washington, would oppose the bill. It will be necessary, therefore, for the Democrats to hold practically their entire party strength in order to pass the measure.

President Wilson's supporters in the senate have invoked the caucus to hold the Democratic senators in line. The party whip will be cracked and the Democratic recalcitrant will be scourged as a party traitor. Some of the Democratic senators who recall the experiences of Senators Gorman Bryce and Smith, who went contrary to the wishes of President Cleveland on the Wilson-Gorman bill, are not very anxious to get off the reservation at this time. Notice has been served on them by the president and the party leaders that their support or non support of the Underwood bill after the caucus has approved it will be a test of party loyalty. The caucus plan has been approved by the administration and his representatives in the senate in this emergency for the first time in many years.

Republicans intended to make it uncomfortable for the Democratic senators who profess to favor a duty on sugar and on wool. Amendments will be offered in the senate to the bill to put a duty on wool ranging anywhere from 10 per cent to 30 per cent. It is likely that a number of amendments will be offered proposing higher duties at first and then gradually scaling down to a 10 per cent duty. The Democratic senators from wool growing states will be put to the necessity of voting for or against these amendments, and they cannot escape the responsibility of passing or defeating a duty on wool, for there are enough of them to carry a duty through the senate, provided they join the Republicans. The same course will be followed with respect to duty on sugar.

It is likely that the tariff bill will be held in the Democratic caucus and in the finance committee for two weeks or longer. It is possible that it may not be reported into the open senate until near the first of June. At least six weeks of debate in the senate is conceded, and the general opinion is that it will be nearer two months.

PITTSBURGH SHOCKED BY GIRL SMOKERS

Puff Cigarettes While Riding in Automobiles.

COW BEATS HORSE IN RACE

Bossy Outstrips Pacer on Track and Owner Wins $24.

New Richmond, Wis., May 5.—To settle a controversy of long standing as to their racing ability, a contest between a cow and a racing mare, owned by rival hotelkeepers in this city drew a big crowd to the fair grounds.

The cow is the property of Anthony Meath, proprietor of the Commercial house, and the horse is owned by George Cranston, of the National hotel. The horse either was to trot or pace, the cow to go as she pleased. It was to be once around the half-mile track, standing start. The cow was a safe winner. Colonel Meath's winnings aggregated $24.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather
Albany.....	70	Clear.
Atlantic City..	54	Cloudy.
Boston.....	58	Clear.
Chicago.....	72	P. Cloudy.
Buffalo.....	70	Cloudy.
New Orleans...	72	Cloudy.
New York.....	62	Cloudy.
Philadelphia...	64	Clear.
St. Louis.....	72	P. Cloudy.
Washington....	80	Clear.

The Weather.

Fair today; unsettled tomorrow; south winds.

health. Every day he descends to his library and devotes several hours to his work. It is learned that one of his first acts after he became convalescent was to appoint Dr. Andrea Amici his private physician.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—To stop "spoofing" in Swope park Chief of Police Griffin said he hoped soon to install upon one of the high towers of the park shelter house a powerful searchlight, "whose eagle eye would bring into the limelight all couples secluded over the 1200 acres of hill and dale the park contains."

Sprayers Necessary

Some States make you spray now, others will follow soon. But you must apply right solutions, at the right time, in the right way. You need a sprayer with best pumps and adjustments for YOUR purpose.

IRON AGE Sprayers

have these advantages. Barrel, Traction and Power Sprayers. Pumps outside, will not corrode; handle any solution.

A complete line of nozzles, bamboo rods and guaranteed spray hose.

For sale by,

Both Phones, S. G. Bigham, Biglerville, Pa.

FRUIT TREES

The Adams County Nursery offers a fine lot of fruit trees in APPLE and PEACH in leading varieties

The Adams County Nursery,

Aspers P. O., Pa. H. G. Baugher, proprietor

Chicks Are Profitable

when properly fed and kept free from lice. Cut down your losses; have stronger, better chicks. No other food makes chicks thrive like

Pratt's Baby Chick Food

Made to grow good chicks and does it! In boxes and bags, 25c up. Sample free.

Pratt's Powdered Lice Killer

Kills body lice on fowls and chicks. 25c, 50c. "Your money back if it fails."

100-page poultry book FREE. Get Pratt's Profit-sharing Booklet. Sold by our dealers everywhere.

Cleanliness Follows in the Path of Babbitt's Famous Cleaning Products

Three generations have known Babbitt's products as family friends, which have brightened households and lightened housework for nearly eighty years.

In the name of cleanliness and economy use:

Babbitt's Cleanser
Babbitt's Best Soap
Babbitt's "1776" Soap Powder
Babbitt's Pure Lye or Potash

SAVE BABBITT TRADEMARKS

Every Babbitt product carries a trademarked wrapper—which is good for valuable premiums—articles for the home or for personal wear. Send for new Babbitt premium catalogue.

B. T. BABBITT, Inc., New York City

HORSES FOR SALE

Standard-bred driving horse 16 1/2 hands high, weight 1200. Percheron mare, good leader and high class brood mare, weight 1425. Horse for farm work, weight 1425.

WM. M. BIGHAM'S SONS, Gettysburg.

They Taste Good as we serve them

Chocolate Paste Sundae 5c
Chocolate Nut Sundae 5c
Crushed Peach Sundae 5c
Fresh Strawberry Sundae 5c
Marshmallow Sundae 5c
Pineapple Sundae 5c
STRAWBERRY ROYAL 10c
Limeade 5c Lemonade 5c
Phosphates 5c Grape Juice 5c
Claret Lemonade 5c

Gettysburg Candy Kitchen

Next Door to Eagle Hotel.

NOTICE

I have changed my residence from Cashtown to Gettysburg and am now better fixed to call sales in town and county, of both real and personal property. Thanking my patrons for past favors I solicit similar patronage in the future. My phone call will be on the United.—George J. Martz, auct., 218 York Street, Gettysburg, Pa.—advertisement.

R. H. Bushman

Cleaner and Presser

Their Mutual Confession

By EDITH V. ROSS

When Tom Ashworth and Emma Treat's engagement was announced everybody said "That'll be a case of Mr. and Mrs. Devil." The remark didn't mean that either of them had been convicted of theft, murder or bigamy. It meant that Tom was a man of the world and would never do for a superintendent of a Sunday school, and that Emma had been engaged half a dozen times not emerging from any of her betrothals with a clear record for having treated her fiancé honorably. Not that she thought she had treated him dishonorably. It was simply that she had no conscience in such matters.

One evening after she had become engaged to Tom Ashworth and while he was calling upon her she said:

"Tom, I have been told by my friends that you have the worst record of any man in society. I wonder if after all I will be safe in marrying you."

"That's very singular."

"What's singular?"

"Why, a friend of mine when I announced my engagement to you exclaimed, 'For heaven sake, you're not going to tackle that, are you?' And when I asked for an explanation he said 'Any man who has made love to her has before he got through danced in bare feet on a hot stove.'"

"The horrid wretch, to say such a thing!"

She thought a bit, then with a very serious air said:

"This is not a flirtation between you and me."

"It's the real thing."

"Now, I think it best before taking a step that is very difficult to back out of that we know the worst about each other. Let us make a clean breast of it; then if after being married we hear anything detrimental to each other we'll know just what it means."

"That's a good idea."

"Well, then, suppose you begin?"

"Why not you?"

"It's the lady's privilege to—"

"Confess last?"

"Man is always supposed to defer to woman."

"Certainly. I wouldn't think of going through a doorway before you and on the same principle I'm willing that you should confess first. However, since you insist upon it, I will where shall I begin?"

"I would like to have you tell me just what sin lies heavy on your conscience."

"Well, to begin with, once while in the country I went to a corn husking. My companion, a pretty girl with red lips, couldn't find a red ear, so I borrowed one and kissed her."

"The first time you met her! How shocking! They have horrid ways in the country. Well, go on."

"That affair of mine with Miss Turner you may have heard about was all made out of whole cloth. Nothing in it whatever."

"I have heard of that to your discredit and I'm very glad to have you assure me that you were not at fault in the matter. Go on."

"I once won $5 gambling."

"How? Where? At what game?"

"At a friend's house. We were a party of six."

"Anything else?"

"I once got tipsy, but there was something in the punch we drank that made us all sick."

"You should have been ashamed of yourself. Go on. Tell me the rest."

"I can't think of anything more just now. If I recall anything very bad I'll tell you. Oh, yes. I once was weak enough to allow a married woman to squeeze my hand."

"Good gracious! Come, bring it all out. Don't be afraid. I am forgiving you, you know."

"That's every bit of it. Now it's your turn. Remember, don't leave a weak spot behind you. Tell it all."

"Oh, dear, I'm afraid you'll turn against me when you hear the many things of which I've been guilty. Not that any of them are so dreadfully bad either, but you men are so particular about the women you marry."

"You never committed bigamy, did you?"

"No, indeed. What made you think of such a thing?"

"Nor robbed a married woman of her husband?"

"Heavens, no."

"Did any man commit suicide because you threw him over?"

"You awful thing to ask me such a question."

"Didn't a divorced man once get a license to marry you?"

"If you accuse me of any more such horrid crimes I'll break our engagement."

"I have heard that you once went to a student's ball in Paris dressed in a very negligee costume."

"It wasn't a student's ball at all. It was a very respectable affair given by the Parisian artists. I represented."

"Never mind what you represented. Go on with your confession."

"Well, there's one thing—just one—I think you should know. Once when I was very young a young fellow blew out the lights and—"

"What?"

"Kissed me."

"Is that all?"

"Yes."

"Sure?"

"Every teeny, weeny little thing."

"I knew you were absolutely pure and innocent," he said, lifting her face and kissing her lips.

A Generous Rebuke.

Nicholas Wain, one of the great men of the time described in "The Colonial Homes of Philadelphia and Its Neighborhood," had a wit as whimsical as Lamb's, although there was less of it. Annoyed by repeated depredations upon his woodpile, he bought a cart load of wood and sent it to the offender.

"Friend," was the courteous explanation that accompanied the wood, "I was afraid there would hurt thyself falling off my woodpile."—Youth's Companion.

AN OPTICAL DELUSION.

The Story of a Martinet Colonel, a Captain and a Sword.

The colonel of an English regiment, a rigid martinet, is sitting at the window of his room when, looking out, he sees a captain crossing the barrack yard toward the gate. Looking at him closely he is shocked to observe that the rules and regulations to the contrary notwithstanding, the captain does not carry a sword.

"Captain!" he calls from the window. "Hi, captain, step up to my room for a moment, will you?"

The captain obeys promptly, borrows a sword of the officer of the guard, the guardroom being at the foot of the stairs, and presents himself to the colonel in irreproachable dress.

The colonel is somewhat surprised to see the sword in its place and, having to invent some pretext for calling his subordinate back, says, with some confusion: "Beg your pardon, captain, but really I've forgotten what it was I wanted to speak to you about. However, it can't have been very important. I'll keep. Good morning."

The captain salutes, departs, returns the sword to its owner and is making off across the barrack yard, where he again comes within range of the colonel's vision.

The colonel rubs his eyes, stares, says softly to himself: "How in thunder is this? He hasn't a sword to his waist!" then calls aloud: "Captain! Hi, captain! One moment, please!"

The captain returns, borrows the sword again, mounts the stairs and enters the colonel's presence. His commanding officer stares at him intently. He has a sword; he sees it; he hears it clank.

"Captain," he stammers, growing very hot, "it's ridiculous, you know, but—ha! ha!—I'd just remembered what I wanted to say to you, and now—ha! ha! it's gone out of my head again. Funny, isn't it? Ha, ha, ha! Losing my memory. Never mind. I'll think of it and write you. Good morning."

The captain salutes, departs, returns the sword to its owner and makes for the gate. As he crosses the barrack yard the colonel calls his wife to his side and says, "See that officer out there?"

"Yes."

"Has he got a sword on?"

The colonel's wife adjusts her eyeglasses upon him, scans him keenly and says, "He hasn't a taste of a sword."

The colonel: "That's just where you fool yourself. Yes, he has."

Trials.

Trials teach us what we are. They dig up the soil and let us see what we are made of; they just turn up some of the ill weeds on the surface.—Spurgeon.

A Quick Answer.

An English tourist was sightseeing in Ireland, and the guide had pointed out the Devil's gap, the Devil's peak and the Devil's leap to him. "Pat," he said, "the devil seems to have a great deal of property in this district."

"He has, sir," replied the guide; "but, sure, he's like all the landlords—he lives in England."

Spoiled the Effect.

The story is told of the late Mr. Auguste Van Buren that once as he was going on the stage his manager handed him change for a twenty pound note that he had wanted cashed. The money was in gold, and the actor slipped it into his pocket and hurried on to take his cue.

In the course of his part he had to speak the line, "I am penniless—" am penniless," and raise his handkerchief to his eyes to wipe away the tears.

Unfortunately he forgot all about the handful of gold he had stuffed in his pocket, and when at the second "I am penniless" he pulled out his handkerchief a shower of gold came with it. The pieces rolled all over the stage. Van Buren stood staring at them in amazement while the audience howled.

An Invalid's Craving.

Speaker Champ Clark has a friend who struck Washington in bad health and without funds. He became so ill that Mr. Clark sent him to a hospital. A few days later the speaker received this letter from the invalid:

Dear Champ—I am much better. Please bring me some magazines. Please bring me the makings, bag of tobacco, and box of cigarette papers. Please bring me some of Sir Walter Scott's novels.

R. B.—Please bring me a pie.

—Washington Star.

Scours in Lambs.

Garget in the ewe is claimed to be the cause of white scours in the lamb. This is prevented by milking from the udder daily the milk not required by the lamb. To cure scouring in lambs give eight to ten drops of tincture of opium in a little milk. If the lambs bleed about and appears dull instead of playful, one may suspect constipation, which often kills these delicate creatures. To relieve it inject into the rectum a tablespoonful of warm, soapy water in which is a very little olive oil.

PECULIAR HORSES.

They Have Little Hair and Eat Butter and Sugar With Flour.

The greatest peculiarity of the Turkoman breed of horses is their hairlessness. They have naturally very little mane, and what they have is always carefully cut off. Their skin is very soft and thin. Colonel Stewart in "Through Persia in Disguise" tells of the great care taken of these animals.

They are never stabled, but picketed in the open. They are, however, warmly clothed. First the Turkoman puts over his animal a thick felt body covering of the size that an English horse wears. Over this he fastens an immense piece of felt that covers the horse's ears and his whole body down to his hocks. This clothing he keeps in place with a long roller, which is passed three times round the horse's body.

The Turkomans feed their horses when in camp on barley or chopped straw and give them flour and sheep's tail fat or clarified butter when they are going to call on them for great exertion. I myself in India have often given my horses a pound each of flour and coarse sugar and half a pound of clarified butter made into balls when I have ridden them far and wanted them to go on again. The horse easily digests this ration, and he is ready to start sooner than if a feed of corn is given him. It is also supposed to give great strength.

Turkomans give their horses almost anything they eat themselves. Although hardly in respect of food, the horses require a good deal of care as to clothing, for fine coats and delicate skins make them very susceptible to colds.

LEADERS OF MEN.

It is by Success That They Attain Prestige and Power.

As soon as a certain number of living beings are gathered together, whether they be animals or men, they place themselves instinctively under the authority of a chief.

As enthusiasm becomes inflamed it happens most often that the then leader is the one who started as one of the led. He has himself been hypnotized by the idea whose apostle he has since become. It has taken possession of him to such a degree that everything outside it vanishes, and every contrary opinion appears to him an error or a superstition. In time by affirmation, repetition and contagion great power is given to his ideas, and he acquires that mysterious force known as prestige. Every successful man, every idea that forces itself into recognition, comes ipso facto to be called in question.

The proof that success is one of the principal stepping stones to prestige is that the disappearance of one is almost always followed by the disappearance of the other. The hero whom the crowd acclaimed yesterday is in suit today should he be overtaken by failure. The reaction indeed will be the stronger in proportion as the prestige has been great.—Le Bon in "The Crowd."

Verdi as a Politician.

The name of Verdi, we are told, was a political and patriotic symbol. He belonged to the Italian Nationalist party, and his name was scribbled on the walls of Italian towns which were under Austrian rule. This honor, however, as is carefully explained, was not paid to Verdi himself, as his name happened by accident to be formed by the initial letters of "Victor Emmanuel I of Italy," with which inscription Italian patriots often cover their walls. Verdi was a politician. He was elected deputy, and subsequently Emmanuel made him a senator. The story is told that the maestro was in the habit of orchestrating the sittings of the chamber of deputies and noting the tone of the various speakers, so that he could go up to each of them in the lobby and tell him that his speech was in such and such a key.—Westminster Gazette.

Uses of Enthusiasm.

"I didn't know you were an especial admirer of the man who got elected."

"I'm not," replied the practical politician.

"Then why so much enthusiasm?"

"It's the only way I can suggest to my constituents that maybe I have some influence with him."—Washington Star.

And He Was Cruel to Her.

Lawyer I think I can get you a divorce, madam, for cruel and inhuman treatment, but do you think your husband will fight the suit? Woman—Fight! Why, the little shrimp doesn't even come into a room where I am!—Truth Seeker.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

Mail Awaiting Call at Gettysburg Postoffice.

The following mail remains unclaimed in the Gettysburg postoffice: Mr. Alva Agree, Mrs. C. Banner, Mr. Robert J. Cook, Mr. Adolphus Frock, Mr. E. H. Haner, Mr. Charles Harner, Mr. J. B. Howard, Mr. S. B. King, Col. Chas. R. Keyser, Miss Catherine Little, Mrs. Edw. K. McCreaf, Jno. Covode Reed, Harry Ricker, Mrs. John Ridinger, Mr. Theodore Sampson, Mr. Theodore Sampson.

Persons calling for mail will please state that it was advertised.

C. Wm. Beales, Postmaster.

FOR RENT: ten acres of good pasture. Apply Speese & Pfeffer.—advertisement.

FOR RENT: a stable in good condition. Inquire Times Office.—advertisement.

WANTED: woman over thirty years old to keep house for a doctor. Permanent position for right party. Apply or address Times Office.—advertisement.

WANTED: middle aged woman for general housework in small family. Permanent job, good wages. Inquire 118 Steinwehr avenue, Gettysburg.—advertisement.

QUALITY FIRST—

THEN ADVERTISE

If you start out to buy any given article and are offered the choice of one that is well known through advertising and one that you never heard of, you will instinctively choose the one that you know about. You feel secure in selecting an article that will stand up and justify generous publicity.

You are right. A manufacturer or a merchant cannot afford to lend his name to anything that is inferior in quality or not up to the standards of value.

If an article has real merit it is worth talking about. If it hasn't merit it doesn't pay to tell people that it has.

If you make hats or shoes or whatnot and they are good and honest and possess unusual qualities tell the public, and the public will support you. If not, go back to your factory or your store and bring your merchandise up to a standard that will justify the public's confidence.

MOTHERS OF PUNY CHILDREN

May Find Help In This Letter.

"My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago I secured a bottle of Vinol and commenced to give it to her. I soon noticed an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her in all three bottles and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim." J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, ailing children so quickly is because it contains in a delicious combination the two most world famed tonics—i. e., the strength creating, body building elements of cod liver oil, with all the useless grease eliminated, and tonic iron for the blood added. If you have a weak, puny, ailing child, try Vinol—our offer to return your money if it fails to benefit your little one. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

P. S. If you have Eczema try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

Gettysburg Druggist

Deserves Praise

H. C. Landau, druggist, deserves praise from Gettysburg people for introducing here the simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture, known as Adler-ika. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis and it has now been discovered that JUST A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. It's quick action is a big surprise to people.

Danger In Delay

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Gettysburg People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease often follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in this locality.

C. G. Shank, Biglerville, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and are well satisfied with the results. A member of the family complained of kidney trouble and got no benefit until she used Doan's Kidney Pills, which she saw recommended in the paper. This remedy strengthened the kidneys and caused the pains and aches to disappear."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Crawford Shoes

Every Crawford shoe is made to fit perfectly, you get style and you get comfort in Crawford Shoes. The perfect fit, honest materials and careful workmanship produce unusual service and make your purchase of Crawford Shoes always economical. Ask the man who wears them, and sure you'll buy them.

Lewis E. Kirssin, Clothing—Shoe Store.

WANTED: clever high grade agents and salesmen—special offers for May and June business—aluminum percolators, cooking sets, etc. Salary and commission after making good, state experience. Aluminum Factories Company, La Grange, Ill. Akron, O., Alameda, Cal.—advertisement.

WANTED: middle aged woman for general housework in small family. Permanent job, good wages. Inquire 118 Steinwehr avenue, Gettysburg.—advertisement.

EZO FOR THE FEET

No Matter How Sore or Painful Your Feet, You Can Dance with Joy

Don't feel blue; good vigorous feet are easy to get. Ask for a 25-cent jar of EZO, a pleasant, refined ointment. Rub it on those sore, tired, tender, perspiring, burning feet and the misery will disappear like magic. Nothing on earth so good for corns, bunions, calluses, rough, chapped or itching skin. Druggists everywhere.

Sold and Guaranteed by The People's Drug Store

FOR SALE

Fawn and White Indian Runner Duck Eggs - 13 for 50c.

White Indian Runner Duck Eggs - 10 for $1.50.

Mrs. Logan Irvin

R 4, Gettysburg, Pa.

Merchandising On Christian Principle

When you go to Hammers' Store, you get no stamps, no guesses drawings or tickets, but you get a 35 cent collar pad or 25 cents, 10 cents to put in your pocket without any lottery tricks.

We have just received 1000 yds. fancy Lancaster gingham; 1000 yds. other 5 cent gingham; 1000 yds. men's every day shirts; 500 yds. 36 in. muslin, can go at 6 cents a yard. We have fine young Flemish Giant Rabbits, good eating the whole year. Their flesh equals pheasant meat. Don't send $5.75 to the city for rabbits that will not match ours at 50 cents each. 1000 Edison new records $3.00 per dozen, no less sold.

S. S. W. Hammers.

Do Not Experiment

when you need paint. Experiments are costly, and sometimes ruin your property. You assume no risk whatever when you use since, before using it, you buy an equal amount of Pure Linseed Oil and add to the 2-4-1, thereby making what you know to be an absolutely Pure Linseed Oil Paint. Knowledge of this kind is a money saver.

DAVIS' 2-4-1 PAINT

For sale by The Gettysburg Department Store.

Young Men like these Schloss-Baltimore suits of ours because they have just the right style and snap to them,

Older men like them too on account of their dignity and clean-cut business-like appearance.

No matter what your age, you can't go wrong on one of these Suits here.

We can save you money too. Best values in town at $7.00 to $22

Straw hats and all the new things in Spring Furnishings.

We Give S&H Green Trading Stamps.

O. H. LESTZ

Cor. Square & Carlisle Street

WANTED

Agent for Gettysburg and vicinity to represent a thoroughly reputable mutual fire insurance company issuing Cash, non-assessable policies. Classification of business considered before volume. For further information address,

Textile Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Schuylkill Haven, Penna.

WANTED

Carload of potatoes at Biglerville this week.

Price mailed on application.

J. W. Pettis

New Things at Thomas Brothers

The Hat Department is brimful of hats in the latest shapes and straws—Surely there will be one just to suit you in the many styles. Have you seen our line of Straws for small girls? They are peaches and very reasonable in price.

Shoe Department—the New Crossovers are here—Tan, Gun Metal, Patent Leather either in button or lace. "Our Shoes don't wear out our customers, our customers wear out our shoes". And we have not forgotten the Ladies—White Canvas, and Nu-Buck, high or low heels—Oxfords and Pumps and the usual strong line of Blacks and Tans. Don't fail to see our Dress Goods and Ready Made Clothing.

We have gone over our entire shoe stock and have thrown out all odds and ends on a Bargain Counter—most of these are Low Shoes and Pumps and right at the beginning of the season. We are going to mark these regardless of what they cost and it will be worth your while to look them over.

If you have a shoe that needs stretching or buttons put on—remember we are always glad to do it for you without charge—would rather not have them on a Saturday evening on account of being so busy.

THOMAS BROS.

Biglerville,

On the Square.

Penna.

C. W. Weaver & Son

C. W. Weaver & Son

The Leaders

"Wooltex" Skirts—for Misses & Little Women Under Price—Something Very Unusual

Copy of letter received April 26th. from Mr. Woolley—

Traveling representative for the H. Black CO.

The H. Black Company

COATS SUITS SKIRTS

Cleveland, O. April 25th, 1913

Messrs. G. W. Weaver & Son, Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Weaver—

It will interest you to learn that we have cut from remnants about nine hundred Misses Skirts, of materials of high character—which would ordinarily figure at factory $5.00 to $6.75. You can clean up twenty-five in a Friday's sale, so commission me to act for you and I'll see to it that you get an excellent assortment. Lengths cut 34 to 38 inches. Kindly reply at once.

Yours sincerely, E. E. Woolley.

There was no price given for our cost, which had been overlooked by the writer, but price came by telegraph next day. We ordered twenty-five and they are now in our stock—Price $4.25—They are tailored in the "Wooltex" way—out of elegant suit and skirt materials, and if you can wear a skirt 38 inches long, or under, there is a chance to save from $2.00 to $4.00 in its purchase out of this lot.